

Saturday,
October 30, 2004

7:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Little America Hotel, Salt Lake City, UT

The North American
Symposium on Bat Research

is the organizer of this teacher workshop in conjunction with its annual meeting being held in Salt Lake City. This workshop is provided as a community service to the city where the NASBR meets.

Teacher Workshop on the BATS OF UTAH

- 7:30 a.m. Registration
- 8:00 a.m. Welcome and Introductions: Pat Morton, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department
- 8:05 a.m. The Bats of Utah
Dr. Mike Bogan, U.S. Geological Survey, New Mexico
- 8:45 a.m. Discover Bats!
Meg Goodman, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, Texas
- 9:15 a.m. Bats and Echolocation in the Classroom
Dr. Stephen Burnett, Clayton College & State University, Georgia
- 10:15 a.m. Break & Visit to Speleobook Store (for everything “batty”)
- 10:45 a.m. Kids 4 Bats – Thematic Units and Integrating Core Curricula into Science Applications
Vicki Tyler, U.S. Forest Service, Utah
- 11:30 a.m. Forgotten Pollinators – Birds, Bees & Bats Do It Too!
Dr. Allyson Walsh, LUBEE Bat Conservancy, Florida
- 12:15 p.m. Bats in Your World – Urban Bats!
Dharma Weber, Indigo Wings, California
- 1:00 p.m. Amazing Bats!
Rob Mies, Organization for Bat Conservation, Michigan

Inservice credit will be available through Southern Utah University Department of Biology on the day of the workshop (sign up at the workshop).

The workshop is limited to 35 Salt Lake City-area educators.

Pre-registration ($10) is required – please contact Pat Morton at: patricia.morton@tpwd.state.tx.us

GENEROUS SPONSORSHIP FOR THE WORKSHOP HAS BEEN PROVIDED BY:

Bat Conservation International, Bat Research News, LUBEE Foundation, North American Symposium on Bat Research, Organization for Bat Conservation, Indigo Wings, Speleobooks and Texas Parks and Wildlife Dept.

BRN SPELEOBOKS

NASBR
INDIGO
WINGS